

Disciplinary Data Repositories

The following suggestions are not exhaustive of all disciplinary data repositories. Please visit re3data.org a global registry of research data repositories to view and find a repository for your subject area. If there are no disciplinary data repositories that meet your needs or are not suitable, York University Libraries recommend using the York U Dataverse repository free for York University researchers. For additional recommendations and information on data repositories, please contact the Libraries at yul_rdm@yorku.ca.
